Mail: [SMTP] Coordinator of International Programs

CALS Department Heads:
Please forward the following announcement to all faculty in your unit.
******************************************************

TO: ALL CALS FACULTY:

************************************************************************

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND LIFE SCIENCES

POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

POSITION TITLE: Coordinator of International Programs

This position will be half-time, and the selection will be made internally.

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES:

The Coordinator will provide leadership and coordinate activities for the international programs of the College, and will be expected to integrate these with those of the University International Programs Office to the extent feasible. Special emphasis will be placed on strengthening the international dimensions of research, teaching, and extension among all departments. The Coordinator will be expected to communicate effectively with College and University administrators, faculty and students, the private sector -- especially commodity group leaders, and the general public.

The Coordinator also will serve the important function of advocate, e.g., an individual who champions and legitimates policies and administrative avenues that permit faculty and students to more effectively and efficiently enter into, function within, quickly realize achievements, and receive the appropriate recognition for contributions in the international programs arena. Scholarship is to be promoted through interactive learning across borders, cultures, and disciplines. An international dimension is expected to be encouraged in existing and new undergraduate and graduate curricula, and the Coordinator is to promote and expand student access to international opportunities for internships, careers, study abroad programs and funding.

The Coordinator is expected to: (1) lead in the identification of funding sources, (2) help form linkages among and between scientists, students and business persons for the development of mutually beneficial grants and projects, (3) administer an international programs operating budget including travel funds, and (4) work with a standing advisory committee to continuously evaluate and improve CALS international programs.

The Coordinator will report to the Dean of the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences and will collaborate and work with associate deans and directors of research, teaching, and extension, as well as department heads in international aspects of College programs.

QUALIFICATIONS:

The Coordinator must be tenured in a CALS' department and hold an earned doctorate in agricultural, social, or biological sciences or other closely related field. Requirements include: administrative experience, familiarity with a broad range of international programs and organizations, plus sensitivity for the needs of global economy and the importance of two way technology flows. The person selected must also have the ability and willingness to work effectively and cooperatively with university administrators, fellow faculty members, state and federal governments, international counterparts, potential funding entities, and the private sector agricultural community of North Carolina. Significant experience in living and working outside the United States is desirable.

CLOSING DATE: 1 September 1997

POSITION AVAILABLE: 1 October 1997, or as soon thereafter as possible.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

Interested NC State University faculty members should submit: (1) a letter of application; (2) curriculum vitae; (3) three letters of reference; and (4) statement of philosophy related to the role of international programs in CALS and the importance to North Carolina.

Mail to: Dr. Hosni Hassan, Chair
Search Committee
Department of Microbiology
Box 7615, 4515 Gardner Hall
NC State Campus