NORTH CAROLINA COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE

Program News
Program Development Institute
Providing timely, relevant educational programs to the citizens of North Carolina is the cornerstone of Cooperative Extension’s service to the state. These research-based programs, offered in a myriad of different subject areas, equip citizens with the knowledge and skills to enhance their economic prosperity, environmental stewardship and overall enhanced quality of life.

As an organization, North Carolina Cooperative Extension (NCCE) is committed to providing training and development opportunities that will make educational programming even stronger to achieve greater impacts. The first of a three-part Program Development Institute training was held in all seven Extension districts from May 29 through June 14, 2007. This one-day session, with nearly 600 county-based Extension personnel in attendance statewide, focused on program planning and included skill-building training on the technical aspects of conducting environmental scans such as assessing needs using primary and secondary data sources, mapping target publics, and identifying community assets.

In August 2007, district level training will be conducted across the state that focuses on designing and implementing educational programs. A session on program evaluation, the last of the three-part Program Development Institute training, will occur throughout the state during the month of November 2007.

A Message from Roger Crickenberger
As retirement rapidly approaches (July 1, 2007), I want to thank everyone at NCSU and in CALS, as well as my home department, Animal Science, for their input, support, encouragement and cooperation in many programs and activities over the past 30 years and some months. Truly, what I’ve been able to accomplish and contribute to agriculture and the life sciences at NC State has been largely due to many people working together to achieve major accomplishments. Hopefully, I’ve contributed in some useful way to facilitation, support and encouragement of people in the college and connected with the college.

Jamie and Jason’s band director has challenged the band students over the years to strive for excellence, set your sights high, never give up and push to achieve the next step. To a great degree, that’s what I’ve tried to do over the years. And thanks to many people in the college, we’ve had a lot of successes.

I know the college will continue to serve agriculture and the life sciences in effective and economically important ways, and I wish all of you the best in the years to come.

Thanks for a wonderful 30 plus years.

Roger Crickenberger
Associate Director, NCARS

COLLEGE ADVANCEMENT

NC 4-H Gala Has Record-breaking Year!
Thanks to the leadership of our outstanding Board of Directors and Event Chairs, Mr. Bobby Rice (Vice President, Hendrick Motorsports) and Mr. Joe Drury (President and CEO, Bojangles'), this year's 4-H Gala was an unparalleled success! With over $230,000 in pre-Gala support and a $21,000 silent auction, the Gala received cash gifts in excess of $250,000. Combine that with $6,000 in in-kind donations from RagApple Lassie Vineyards and Shelton Vineyards and that's just the beginning of the great night 4-H experienced!

Hendrick Automotive Group graciously donated a 2007 British Racing Green Mini Cooper to be raffled off by our 4-H'ers across the state. Based on previous vehicle raffles, this should be an investment of over $130,000 in our 4-H programs at the local, county and state levels. The winning ticket will be pulled at the 2007 Summit on Youth and Families sponsored by the Department of 4-H Youth Development and Family and Consumer Sciences in December. You can visit the State 4-H Office or the NC 4-H Development Fund Office to purchase tickets at $5 each!

The talent, 4-H exhibits and state and district officers did a wonderful job showcasing our contemporary 4-H program. So much so that Rick Hendrick pledged his support of the Operation Purple Camp for kids of deployed soldiers that we have held in the past at Millstone 4-H Center. Overall, it was a wonderful night of celebration for our two honorees, Mr. Rick Hendrick and Dr. T.
Carlton Blalock. 4-H hosted the upper echelon of the Charlotte Bobcats administration, including founder, Mr. Bob Johnson. There were more CEOs in the room supporting NC 4-H than we have ever had...it was truly a celebration of the power of the clover in North Carolina.

Legacy Gifts
At a recent conference, the closing speaker asked the group of 600 attendees who could tell him the names of their four grandparents. About 100 people raised their hands. Then he asked who could name all eight of their great grandparents. Only two people in the entire audience raised their hands. His response was “Well then that’s all there is...within two generations after your death, no one will remember who you were or what you stood for!” He went on to point out that the only way for us to be remembered was to make a “Legacy Gift” to a charity of our choice in order to ensure that our beliefs, values and, yes, even our names continue forever.

In the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Legacy Gifts can range from a $15,000 scholarship or programmatic endowment to $25 million to name the entire College. Your Legacy Gift may be funded through something as simple as a codicil to your will or through gifts of cash or appreciated assets including real estate and securities. These gifts can also provide you and members of your family with lifetime income, charitable deductions and reduced estate taxes.

To learn more about Legacy Gifts in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, contact the CALS Advancement Office at 919.515.9262 or visit our website at
CALS Gift Legacy Web Site
To serve faculty and staff with helpful information, we have created a comprehensive gift planning Web site. We have an increasing number of friends of the College who now are benefiting from life income gifts, gift annuities and other charitable vehicles. Thank you for taking the time to explore the benefits of gift planning at http://cals.giftlegacy.com/.

You may support any area of the College and join or renew your Arboretum membership online using our secure website. Visit http://www.cals.ncsu.edu/givenow for safe, convenient online giving!
